All Faiths Bow Heads In Ansonia As Kennedy Tribute

ANSONIA — A solemn Ansonia is marking an official day of mourning today but the generally somber mood of the day can be no deeper than it has been since Friday — the day an assassin's bullet ended the life of John F. Kennedy.

Persons of all faiths attended special services over the weekend. Protestants flocked to a memorial service Sunday night at the Congregational Church. The tribute was sponsored by the city's Protestant churches..

Solemn high masses of requiem will be celebrated tonight at 7:30 at the Church of the Assumption and the Holy Rosary Church. A mass was held this morning at St. Anthony's Church.

Virtually all social and busness activities scheduled since Friday have been called off. Most businesses and industries are closed today as are all municipal activities.
